

To: Forum Communications

From: US Commercial News/Dept of Commerce (whatever is right)

RE: Fargo Company Awarded "2006 US Exporter of The Year"

Dear Mr. Pinon,

This memo with included press release is to inform you of a Fargo company that was recently awarded the prestigious award at the Global Trade Conference in Fargo on March 23-24 at the Ramada Plaza Suites.

Dignitaries from Washington, DC, including the Deputy for the US Commercial Service, US Dept. of Commerce, were on hand to present the award to Roll-A-Ramp, West Fargo, ND. With the 2006 "Exporter of The Year Award" Consumer Goods Division.

Receiving the award was President/CEO Tom Kenville of Roll-A-Ramp. To qualify for the award the winning company had to present documented number of transactions abroad, and show international growth over the previous year. Roll-A-Ramp currently has exported to 26 countries world wide. Current figures for 2006 show ND exports globally totaling 3 Billion, up 27% from 2005. It is companies like Roll-A-Ramp enabling ND to grow exports of ND products at a pace faster than the national average.

Roll-A-Ramp manufactures and distributes globally a lightweight aluminum aircraft-quality ramp product. Its uniqueness within the market has caused Roll-A-Ramp to have overwhelmingly positive response globally.

Employees are Greg Moll - National & International Sales Mgr, Tim Capouch – GM, Samantha Heth – Sales Support. Tom E. Kenville is the owner.

Regards,